

ASIA 227

FALL 2017

MODERN KOREA: HISTORY, CULTURE, & SOCIETY

Tues 2:30 – 5:00 PM
Distribution I

Instructor: Han Sang Kim

Annette and Hugh Gragg Postdoctoral Fellow in Transnational Asian Studies
hk29@rice.edu

This course aims to introduce students to modern Korean culture and society from a historical perspective. Three main themes— “colonial past and the politics of memory,” “the other cold war,” and “global Korea and its others” —will map the historical and geopolitical elements that have shaped the national identity and mentalities to help students better understand the transformation of Korean society as the world order changed.

Approved for credit by the Department of History.

