

JAPAN AND KOREA IN THE CHINESE CRUCIBLE

TR 9:25 – 10:40 AM

Instructor: Michael B. McCarty

Annette and Hugh Gragg Lecturer in Asian Studies

mbm7@rice.edu

How did China provide the model for civilization in East Asia? We will investigate how ancient China was both the model for the rise of new civilizations in Japan and Korea, as well as the actual catalyst for the development of these sister states through diplomacy, war, and cultural transmission. This course will explore the cultural, ideological, linguistic, and political dimensions of Japanese and Korean civilization as forged in the “crucible” of China.