‘Meet the Authors’ Speaker Series
Spring Term 2021

Speaker:

Prof. Roshni Sengupta is Assistant Professor, Institute of Middle and Far East, Jagiellonian University in Krakow, Poland. Her research interests lie in media studies and South Asian politics and culture. Prof Sengupta’s monograph titled Reading the Muslim on Celluloid: Bollywood, Representation and Politics has been recently published by Primus India (February 2020).

TUESDAY, 23 MARCH 2021
10 AM - 11 AM CDT
FULLY ONLINE BY ZOOM
RSVP @CHAOCENTER WEBPAGE
T.LY/QYWG

MASS provides a new virtual forum for faculty, staff, and students at Rice University to critically engage with 5 prominent scholars whose work strives to re-define the research paradigm in Asian Studies. MASS will present a series of discussion-centric events in which the invited speakers will circulate and discuss their recent publications, especially those that unsettle the confines of a particular time period, the geography of Asia, and disciplinary boundaries. MASS is open to all registered participants and the speaker’s publication will be sent to participants one week before the event.

MASS is convened by Dr. Ka-Kin Cheuk (ka-kin.cheuk@rice.edu) and Ms. Yifan Wang (yifanwang@rice.edu) and is generously sponsored by the Humanities Research Center Speaker Series Grant