This course introduces students to the cross-disciplinary study of human mobility in the Asia-Pacific. Intra-Asia flows of people will be examined in order to trace their multifaceted implications. On completing the course, students should be able to present their own thinking on complex issues related to global migration.