India has been in the news lately for many reasons – its growth rate, outsourcing, poverty, violence against women, Hindu nationalism, nuclear program, and Bollywood. In this class we will explore some of these topics by focusing on India’s transition from colonialism to the emergence of the modern nation-state, to understand the major changes that give shape to life in contemporary South Asia.

Bhavani Arabandi, Ph.D.
Postdoctoral Fellow
Chao Center for Asian Studies

Class Time: Tuesdays 3 - 5:30 p.m.

Bhavani.Arabandi@rice.edu